MONTANA YOUTH CHALLENGE ACADEMY TO REMAIN OPEN

DILLON, MONT. – The Montana National Guard, with input from the Department of Public Health and Human Services (DPHHS), University of Montana Western and Beaverhead Co. public health officials, has confirmed that they will continue operations of the Montana Youth Challenge Academy (MYCA) for the time being. All four entities have been working cooperatively to ensure the safety and security of the MYCA cadets and staff, UMW Campus Community and the Community of Dillon.

Resident educational programs were specifically excluded from the mandate recently issued by Governor Bullock that required the closure of all public schools that was done to stop the spread of the COVID-19 virus. There are currently 124 Cadets and 50 staff at the MYCA.

"Public health has reviewed the measures in place to safeguard the Cadets at the Challenge campus in Dillon, and we have partnered with local health officials to develop a continuous evaluation process to ensure all possible prevention measures are in place and effective," said Dr. Greg Holzman, State Medical Officer.

"Ensuring the safety and welfare of our National Guardsmen and Challenge Cadets remains my top priority," said, Major General Matthew Quinn, Montana National Guard Adjutant General, "Keeping the Challenge Cadets contained on the campus within a shielded environment reassures me that they are safer there than any other option at this time."

"The cadets of the MYCA are managed in an enclosed environment with very little interaction from outside individuals. Keeping our program youth where they are allows us to limit exposure and mitigate the risk of its possible spread," said MYCA Director, Trent Gibson. "To maintain the safety and the security of our Cadets, we are taking even greater steps to minimize risk of the possibility of introducing the virus to the cadets, our faculty or the community."

"These young folks are in a safe environment. They are not a harm to the Dillon community and they need to stay in place and continue their personal improvement," stated HD 71 Representative, Ray Shaw, Sheridan, MT.

Gibson said that he fully understands the concerns expressed by the Dillon and academic communities and confirmed that the program would never do anything that would violate the trust that parents and caregivers have placed in the program. “We have been assured by public health experts this course of action is the most responsible way to ensure the continued safety and security of everyone involved,” said Gibson.

Prior to the concerns of COVID-19 in Montana, the Academy had already proactively increased cleaning, sanitization and personal hygiene to combat the normal illnesses that get passed around this time of year. “We will fully follow the direction and guidance of the Beaverhead County Department of Public Health as well as the State of Montana DPHHS and the Center for Disease Control,” stated Gibson.

The following steps have been put in place in order to reduce risk of exposure and transmission of COVID-19 and will be in effect until further notice:
